BUTCH DAVIS HEAD COACH

Butch Davis, former head coach of the University of Miami and the NFL's Cleveland Browns, is the 33rd head coach of the University of North Carolina and the ninth since the ACC was formed in 1953. Davis served as an analyst on the NFL networks for two seasons prior to joining the Tar Heels.

Davis was head coach for six seasons at the University of Miami (1995-2000) and led the Hurricanes to a 51-20 record, three Big East Conference championships and four postseason bowl wins in as many appearances.

Davis has coached in 11 postseason bowl games as an assistant or head coach, including two apiece in the Fiesta, Orange and Sugar Bowls.

In 1995, Davis took over a Miami program that was faced with NCAA sanctions that restricted the number of scholarships in his first three seasons. However, his Hurricane teams finished ranked in the Associated Press Top 25 on four occasions, including No. 2 in the nation in 2000 when the Hurricanes went 11-1 and beat Florida, 37-20, in the Sugar Bowl.

Miami was 8-3 in 1995 (the school declined to play in a bowl game), 9-3 in 1996 (beat Virginia in the Corquest Bowl), 5-6 in 1997, 9-3 in 1998 (beat NC State in Micron PC Bowl), 9-4 in 1999 (beat Georgia Tech in Gator Bowl) and 11-1 in 2000. In 1999, Miami was invited to play in the Kick-off Classic and defeated Ohio State, 23-12. The 2000 team was second in the nation in scoring, fifth in total offense, fifth in scoring defense and eighth in pass defense.

The Hurricanes earned recognition from the American Football Coaches Association for outstanding graduation rates in each of his six seasons at Miami.

Davis recruited or coached a number of players at Miami who were selected in the NFL Draft, including 28 first-round picks.

He left Coral Gables following the 2000 season to join the Browns. Cleveland won seven games in his first season with the Browns, which was two more than the expansion franchise had won in the previous two years combined. They were on AFC wild card playoff team in 2002 after a nine-win regular season.

That was his second stint in the NFL. He was a defensive assistant with the Dallas Cowboys from 1989-94 and was defensive coordinator in 1993 and 1994. The Cowboys won Super Bowls in 1992 and 1993 and played in one other NFC championship game. As defensive line coach in 1992, he helped the Cowboys lead the NFL in rushing defense. As coordinator a year later, the Cowboys set a team record by allowing just 21 touchdowns in 16 regular-season games. In 1994, Dallas was No. 1 in the league in total defense and pass defense and third in scoring defense. He coached three Pro Bowl starters — end Charles Haley, tackle Leon Lett and safety Darren Woodson.

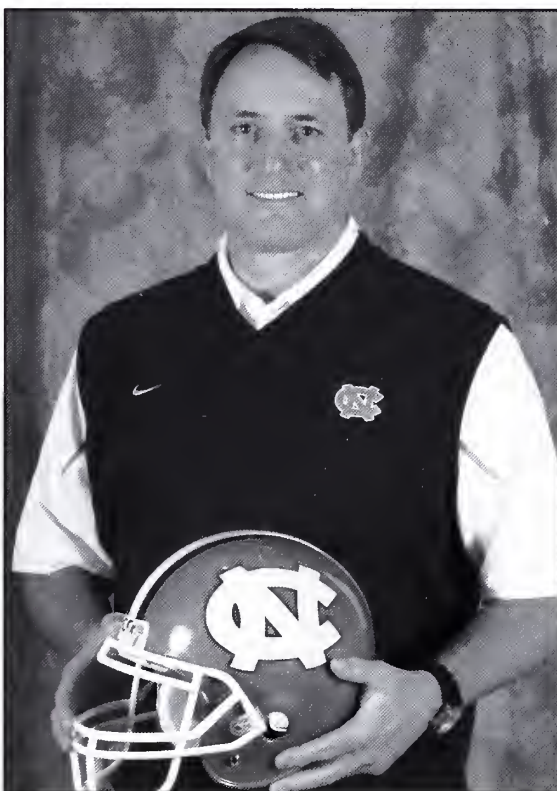

First-round draft picks coached or recruited by Davis as head coach at the University of Miami

Davis was defensive line coach at Miami from 1984-88 under head coach Jimmy Johnson, whom he also coached under for five years in Dallas and five years at Oklahoma State. The Hurricanes went 52-9 in those five years and won the national championship after beating Oklahoma in the Orange Bowl to cap a perfect 12-0 record in 1987. He coached 15 linemen who went on to play in the NFL, including All-Americans Bill Howkins, Cortez Kennedy, Russell Moryland, Daniel Stubbs and the late Jerome Brown.

Davis played college football at the University of Arkansas for Coach Frank Brayles. He earned a bachelor's degree in biology and life science in 1974. His coaching career began as a volunteer assistant in 1973 at Fayetteville High School in Arkansas. He had stints in Oklahoma at Powhusko High School (1974-75) and Sand Springs High School (1976-77) as an assistant coach and at Tulsa Rogers High School (1978) in his first head coaching assignment before joining Johnson's staff at Oklahoma State. He coached tight ends and wide receivers at OSU from 1979-83.

He and his wife, Tommy, have a teenage son, Drew. Paul Hilton (Butch) Davis is a native of Tahlequah, Okla.

JOHN BLAKE
ASSOCIATE HEAD COACH
RECRUITING COORDINATOR
DEFENSIVE LINE

John Blake enters his first season as the North Carolina staff. Blake, who spent the last three seasons at Nebraska, serves as the Tar Heels' associate head coach, recruiting coordinator and defensive line coach.

Head coach Butch Davis and Blake previously worked together as members of Jimmy Johnson's staff with the Dallas Cowboys. Blake joined the Dallas staff as defensive line coach after Davis was promoted to defensive coordinator in 1993. That year, Dallas ranked eighth in the league in total defense and beat Buffalo, 30-13, in Super Bowl XXVII. After Davis left to become the head coach at Miami in 1995, Blake remained in Dallas and won another Super Bowl title under head coach Barry Switzer.

Many observers consider Blake to be the nation's top recruiter. Nebraska's 2005 class was considered by most recruiting analysts to be one of the top five in the country. His role in helping bring some of the country's most talented players to Lincoln led to Blake's inclusion as a finalist for National Recruiter of the Year by Rivals.com. He also was responsible for recruiting the majority of starters on Oklahoma's 2000 national championship team.

Blake was hired as Nebraska's defensive line coach in 2004, and the Huskers ranked second in the Big 12 and 11th nationally in rushing defense that season. Nebraska allowed just 104.0 yards rushing per game, including a league-low 2.9 yards per attempt. In 2005, Nebraska's defense ranked in the top 30 nationally in all four major defensive categories, including being the top-ranked unit in the country for sacks and tackles for loss. In 2006, Nebraska was 9-4 during the regular season and accepted an invitation to play Auburn in the Cotton Bowl on Jan. 1, 2007. Blake also coached in the Huskers' 32-28 win over Michigan in the 2005 Alamo Bowl.

Prior to his stint at Nebraska, Blake served one season as Mississippi State's defensive line coach in 2003. He was the director of a professional developmental camp called "A Chance To Advance Football Camp" for four years before joining MSU. Among his clients were Miami Dolphins defensive end Jason Taylor, Atlanta Falcons linebacker Keith Brooking, New Orleans Saints defense end Darren Howard and Indianapolis Colts defensive end Dwight Freeney.

A native of Rockford, Ill., Blake played for Switzer at Oklahoma from 1979-82 where he earned All-Big Eight honors at nose guard. He later returned to his alma mater to serve as head coach of the Sooners from 1996-98.

At Oklahoma, Blake began as a student assistant working with the defensive line in 1985 and earned a national championship ring that season. The Sooners lost just two games during his first tenure on the staff.

Blake's first full-time assistant position was at Tulsa from 1987-88, where he coached the tight ends and wide receivers. He returned to his alma mater in 1989 as the Sooners' defensive line coach, and then served as Gary Gibbs' linebackers coach from 1990 to 1992.

After Johnson hired Blake in Dallas, five players made the Pro Bowl during his three seasons. Blake's defensive line was considered one of the best in the NFL during his tenure. Among others, Blake tutored pro bowlers Charles Haley, Russell Maryland and Leon Lett.

Blake earned his bachelor's degree in public relations and recreation from Oklahoma in 1986. He and his wife, Freda, have one son, Jourdan.

KEN BROWNING
ASSISTANT COACH
RUNNING BACKS

The longest tenured assistant coach at North Carolina, Ken Browning will coach running backs in 2006. It is his second stint on offense at UNC. He coached tight ends from 2001-04 and defensive tackles from 1994-2000 and 2005-06. Butch Davis is the fourth head coach Browning has worked under at North Carolina. Browning also oversees Carolina's camps and clinics.

One of the state's most decorated high school coaches, Browning joined the Tar Heel staff in 1994 as the defensive tackles coach and has coached in some of the most memorable Carolina football games in his 13 years on the staff. He has been a part of seven bowl games at UNC and was on the staff in 1996-97 when UNC had a combined record of 21-3 and finished ranked in the top 10 both seasons.

Browning has developed a number of outstanding players in his tenure at Carolina, including first-round NFL draft picks Vonnie Holliday, Marcus Jones and Ryan Sims and second-round picks Rick Terry and Russell Davis. Sports Illustrated selected North Carolina's defensive tackles in its positional "Dream Team" in its 1998 preseason college football issue. Nearly every defensive tackle Browning coached at UNC has been drafted by or signed by an NFL franchise. That continued in 2005 when Chase Page was selected by the San Diego Chargers. In 2002, Sims, who played under Browning for three years, was selected by the Kansas City Chiefs in the first round with the No. 6 pick.

Browning is no stranger to success on both sides of the ball. As a defensive assistant, the Tar Heels led the ACC in total defense from 1995-97 and finished No. 2 in the nation in yards allowed in 1996 and 1997. The Tar Heels were third in the country against the run in 1996 allowing 73.9 yards per game. In 1997, Carolina was fourth in the nation stopping the run as the opponents averaged 77.9 yards per contest. UNC held opponents to less than 50 yards rushing in six games and less than 100 yards in nine of 12 games.

Promoted to defensive coordinator in 2000, Browning directed a UNC squad that set a school record with an ACC-best 53 sacks. Carolina finished 19th in the nation against the run, allowing just 103.5 yards per game, and was second in the league and 30th in the nation in total defense.

In four seasons as tight ends coach, Browning developed several standout players, including Zach Hilton, Bobby Blizzard and Jon Hamlett. Under Browning's tutelage, Hilton blossomed into a solid NFL prospect and played three seasons in the NFL. Blizzard earned honorable-mention All-ACC acclaim in 2002.

Browning was the head coach and athletic director at Northern High School for 18 years. He posted a 178-35 record and won the 1993 4-A state title and Shrine Bowl. Over his last three years, Northern built a 43-2 record and he was named the North Carolina Coach of the Year by the Associated Press in 1992 and 1993. He became only the third coach to win both the state title and Shrine Bowl in the same year.

Browning and his wife, Susan, have three sons - Chuck, John and Joe.

JEFF CONNORS
ASSISTANT ATHLETIC DIRECTOR
STRENGTH & CONDITIONING

Jeff Connors is in his seventh year as Carolina's Strength and Conditioning Coordinator and his sixth as an assistant athletic director. While his primary focus is the football team's strength and conditioning, Connors oversees the department's entire strength and conditioning program and also works specifically with the women's basketball team.

In 2003, Connors was honored as a Master Strength & Conditioning Coach by the Collegiate Strength & Conditioning Coaches association (CSCCa). The Master Strength & Conditioning Coach certification is the highest honor that can be achieved as a strength and conditioning coach, representing professionalism, knowledge, experience, expertise and longevity in the field.

Connors' conditioning program was one of the reasons for Carolina's late-season surge in 2004 as the Tar Heels won three of the last four regular-season contests and earned a berth in the Continental Tire Bowl.

Connors came to Carolina after spending 10 seasons as East Carolina's Director of Strength & Conditioning. Under Connors, the Pirates were one of the best fourth-quarter teams in the country. In 1996, the ECU defense did not allow a point in the fourth quarter until the seventh game of the season and in 1999, the Pirates outscored their opponents, 102-56, in the final period. In 2000, ECU had a 94-57 advantage in the fourth quarter.

Connors was the head strength and conditioning coach at Bucknell prior to his experience at East Carolina.

Several of Connors' former assistants are now head strength and conditioning coaches at other universities, including: John Williams, Director of Strength & Conditioning at Baylor; Tom Howley, Director of Strength & Conditioning at Cornell; Jay Butler, Director of Strength & Conditioning at Rutgers; Jennifer Jones, Head Coach of Strength & Conditioning for Women's Sports at Texas A&M; Sanny Sana, Director of Strength & Conditioning at Ohio; Toby Jacobi, Strength & Conditioning Coach at Western Carolina; Josh Bush, Head Strength Coach, Morgan State.

Connors was the featured speaker at the 1995 National Strength and Conditioning Association Conference in Phoenix, the 1996 NSCA Conference in Atlanta and the 2003 NSCA Conference. In 1996, he was the Regional Director of the Year and was nominated for National Strength Coach of the Year in 1991.

Connors is a competitive powerlifter and has won four state titles in powerlifting and has been ranked as high as fourth nationally. He holds Level I certification in Olympic Weight Lifting by the U.S. Weight Lifting Federation.

A 1980 graduate of Salem (W. Va.) College, Connors was a four-year starter at cornerback and was team captain as a senior. He led Salem in interceptions as a sophomore and junior.

After college, Connors served as a police officer in South Florida for two years. Prior to becoming a strength coach, Connors coached high school football and wrestling at The Benjamin School in North Palm Beach, Fla., and he coached linebackers at the Tennessee Military Institute in Sweetwater, Tenn.

Connors and his wife, Michele, have a daughter, Kaitlin, and a son, Beau.

STEVE HAGEN
ASSISTANT COACH
TIGHT ENDS

Steve Hagen enters his first season at North Carolina and will tutor the Tar Heels' tight ends.

Hagen, who spent four seasons as Butch Davis's tight ends (2001-03) and quarterbacks coach (2004) with the Cleveland Browns, came to Carolina after spending one season as the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at Fresno State. A native of Thousand Oaks, Calif., Hagen was Davis's first hire at UNC.

Hagen coached Kelly Halcamp and Jeff Garcia in Cleveland and helped the Browns reach the NFL playoffs in 2002. Prior to his work in the NFL, Hagen was the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at Cal from 1999-2000, and spent two seasons at San Jose State as quarterbacks coach and recruiting coordinator in 1997-98. He was the head coach at Wartburg College (Iowa) in 1996, guiding the team to a 7-3 record and a Na. 8 ranking in Division III in total offense.

Hagen served as the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at UNLV from 1994-95. The Rebels broke 20 school offensive records in two seasons and beat Central Michigan, 52-24, in the 1994 Las Vegas Bowl. As the wide receivers coach at UNLV in 1990, he coached current NFL star Keenan McCardell.

From 1992-93, Hagen was the quarterbacks coach at Nevada. The Wolf Pack were among the nation's most productive offensive teams, leading the nation in total offense (569.1 ypg) and passing yards (397.5 ypg). Nevada played in the inaugural Las Vegas Bowl in 1992.

Hagen spent the 1991 season as the quarterbacks coach at Kent State. In 1990, he was a graduate assistant receivers coach under Lou Holtz at Notre Dame, where he worked with Roshon "Rocket" Ismail and the Fighting Irish defeated Colorado, 21-6, in the 1990 Orange Bowl. He also held coaching positions at Northern Arizona, Illinois and Kansas from 1984-88.

Hagen was a wide receiver at Col Lutheran from 1979-83, where he earned a Bachelor of Arts in business. He and his wife, Amy, have four children, Nash, Hanno, Will and Soren.

JOHN LOVETT
ASSISTANT COACH
SPECIAL TEAMS COORDINATOR &
DEFENSIVE ASSISTANT

John Lovett enters his first season as North Carolina's special teams coordinator and defensive assistant. Lovett comes to Carolina with 18 years of experience as a defensive coordinator, including stops at Clemson, Auburn and Mississippi. Most recently, he was the defensive coordinator of Bowling Green from 2005-06.

In addition to coordinating the defense of Bowling Green, Lovett coached linebackers in 2005 and defensive backs in 2006. In his first year at BGSU, Lovett's defense ranked 20th in the country in turnover margin.

The defensive coordinator at Clemson from 2002-04, Lovett helped develop one of the ACC's top defenses and defensive backs Justin Miller and Brion Mince earned All-American honors. In 2004, Clemson was 11th in the nation in pass defense efficiency (103.4) and 26th in total defense (327.3). In 2003, his defense allowed just 19.2 points per game as Clemson finished the year with nine wins and a top 25 national ranking.

Lovett was the defensive coordinator at Auburn from 1999-2001 and helped lead the Tigers to bowl games each of his last two years. In 2001, Auburn earned a berth in the Peach Bowl opposite North Carolina.

Lovett coached the secondary all four years he was at Ole Miss (1995-98), including the 1997 season when the Rebels had an 8-4 overall record, including a victory in the Motor City Bowl.

Prior to coming to Mississippi in 1995, Lovett worked as defensive coordinator at the University of Maine for two stints. He first went to Orono in 1985 and served as the defensive coordinator and secondary coach from 1985-88. He also served as defensive coordinator for the Black Bears in 1994. The 1987 team won the conference championship and qualified for the Division I-AA playoffs.

Lovett began his career in coaching at Saint Joseph's Regional High School in Montvale, N.J., in 1976. He started his college career in 1978 at Union College in New York, where he worked until 1982. Lovett spent the 1983 season in the Ivy League at Brown, and then moved back to New York to work under Joe Walton as the New York Jets' defensive quality control coach in 1984. In 1989, he joined head coach Tim Murphy at the University of Cincinnati, where he remained until 1992. In 1993, he coached at UNLV as the secondary coach.

Lovett graduated from C.W. Post College in December of 1973. He came to the school as a walk-on, but quickly earned a scholarship and served as the team's co-captain as a senior in 1973. He played for Dom Amile, who is now the Director of Football Operations for the Indianapolis Colts. At the completion of his career, he enrolled in graduate school at the University of Denver and he earned his Master's Degree in 1975. The next year he entered the coaching profession.

CHUCK PAGANO
DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR
DEFENSIVE BACKS

Chuck Pagano enters his first season as North Carolina's defensive coordinator and defensive backs coach. Pagano, who was a member of Davis's previous staffs in Miami and Cleveland, comes to Chapel Hill after serving two seasons as the Oakland Raiders' defensive backs coach.

In 2006, the Raiders led the National Football League in pass defense, allowing just 150.8 yards per game, and ranked third in total defense, giving up 284.8 yards per contest. One of Pagano's pupils, Nnamdi Asomugha, finished third in the league with eight interceptions.

Pagano coached the secondary and was special teams coordinator under Davis at Miami from 1995-2000, where he recruited and coached four first-round NFL draft picks - cornerback Phillip Buchanon, cornerback Duane Starks, safety Ed Reed and cornerback Mike Rumph. During the 2000 season, his secondary was tabbed the nation's best by Football News. His defensive backs did not allow a passing touchdown over the last 27 quarters of the 1999 season. As the Hurricanes' special teams coordinator, Miami blocked 39 kicks in 59 games, including a single-season school record 12 blocks in 1996.

Pagano was Davis's secondary coach in Cleveland from 2001-04. In 2003, his unit helped the Browns tie a franchise record for the fewest passing touchdowns allowed with 13. Under Pagano's tutelage in 2001, the secondary accounted for 28 of the Browns' NFL-leading 33 interceptions, which also set a new team mark. As a rookie in 2001, Cleveland cornerback Anthony Henry led the league in 10 interceptions.

A native of Boulder, Colo., Pagano was a four-year letterwinner and two-year starter at the University of Wyoming. He began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at USC from 1984-85 before serving in the same capacity at Miami in 1986. He was outside linebackers coach at Boise State from 1987-88, then coached defensive backs at East Carolina (1989) and UNLV (1990). In 1991, Pagano was defensive coordinator for UNLV. He returned to ECU to coach defensive backs and outside linebackers from 1992-94.

Pagano and his wife, Tina, have three children, Toro, Taylor and Tori.

SAM PITTMAN
ASSISTANT COACH
OFFENSIVE LINEMAN

Sam Pittman enters his first season as North Carolina's offensive line coach. Pittman comes to Carolina after serving four seasons as Northern Illinois' offensive line coach (2003-06) and three years as its assistant head coach (2004-06). In 2006, the Huskies' offensive line paved the way for the nation's leading rusher, Garrett Wolfe, to run for more than 1,900 yards.

In four years at NIU, Pittman produced nine All-Mid-American Conference linemen, including seven first-team selections. NIU had a tailback top the 1,500-yard rushing mark all four years.

Despite three new starters on the offensive line and two freshmen among its top six players in 2006, Northern Illinois finished 17th in the country in rushing, averaging more than 180 yards per game. Wolfe finished his career as NIU's all-time leading rusher and is the 11th-leading rusher in NCAA history. The Huskies' offensive line played particularly well in the 2006 season opener at No. 1 Ohio State as NIU gained 171 yards on the ground.

In 2005, the Huskies were 16th nationally in rushing, averaging 206.7 yards. That season, Northern Illinois rushed for 211 yards at Michigan and 256 at Northwestern. In 2004, NIU was 9-3, won the Silician Valley Bowl and finished 11th in the nation in rushing (238.2 ypg).

Pittman began his second term at Northern Illinois in 2003. That year, NIU finished 10-2 and beat Maryland and Iowa State and knocked off Alabama, 19-16, in Tuscaloosa. Pittman's line blocked for Michael Turner who finished second in the nation in rushing.

Pittman first coached at Northern Illinois from 1994-95 and produced a trio of All-Big West Conference talent, including All-America center Chris O'Neal. Pittman was the offensive line coach under John Blake at Oklahoma from 1996-98 where he coached first-round draft pick Stackar McDougle. Pittman has also worked with the offensive lines at Cincinnati (1996), Western Michigan (1999), Missouri (2000) and Kansas (2001).

Before NIU, Pittman produced an 11-9-1 record as head coach at Hutchinsan (Kan.) Community College from 1992-93. His 1993 team earned the school's first bowl bid in 23 years at the Valley of the Sun Bowl in Phoenix.

Pittman began his career as a student coach at Pittsburg (Kan.) State University in 1984 and 1985. He moved to Beggs (Okla.) High School as an assistant in 1986, Princeton (Mo.) High School as head coach in 1987-89 and Trenton (Mo.) High School as head coach in 1990.

At PSU, Pittman won four football letters, finished with 35 straight starts, and played in two postseason games at defensive end (1980-83). As a senior, he won first-team NAIA All-America, first-team All-Central States Intercollegiate Conference, team captain and co-MVP honors. In 1982, Pittman made first-team All-CSIC and team defensive MVP. In 1998, he was inducted into the Pittsburg State Athletics Hall of Fame and in 2004, he was voted to the school's All-Century squad.

Pittman received a bachelor's degree in education from PSU in 1986. He is married to the former Jamie Conrad of Pittsburg, Kan.

JOHN SHOOP
ASSISTANT COACH
OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR
QUARTERBACKS

John Shoop enters his first season as North Carolina's offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach. Shoop comes to Chapel Hill after serving two seasons with the Oakland Raiders. He was Oakland's quarterbacks coach in 2005, the tight ends coach in 2006 and was elevated to offensive coordinator for the final five games of the 2006 season.

Shoop spent the 2004 season as quarterbacks coach for the Tampa Bay Buccaneers under head coach Jan Gruden. He worked five seasons (1999-2003) for the Chicago Bears under head coach Dick Jauron, including three as the offensive coordinator (2001-03). Shoop was promoted to Chicago's offensive coordinator position after spending the 1999-2000 seasons as the Bears quarterbacks coach. At the time, he was one of the youngest coordinators in NFL history.

In his first season as the coordinator in Chicago, Shoop revitalized the Chicago offense and helped lead the Bears to the NFC Central Division title with a 13-3 record. That season, tailback Anthony Thomas earned Offensive Rookie of the Year honors after setting a Bears' rookie rushing record with 1,183 yards, and quarterback Jim Miller had his most productive season as a pro.

Under Shoop's direction in 2002, the Bears offense produced Pro Bowl wide receiver Marty Booker, who became the first Chicago receiver to earn all-star game honors since 1971.

Prior to joining the Bears, Shoop spent four seasons with the Carolina Panthers, where he began his NFL coaching career at the age of 26. Shoop was an offensive quality control assistant for the Panthers in 1995-96 where he was a member of a staff that led the team to the NFL Championship Game in 1996. He was then promoted to quarterbacks coach, serving in that capacity for Carolina from 1997-98.

Shoop began his coaching career as a volunteer quarterbacks coach at Dartmouth in 1991, then served as a graduate assistant at Vanderbilt from 1992-94, where he also earned a master's degree in education.

A native of Oakmont, Pa., Shoop graduated from the University of the South in 1991, where he played quarterback for four seasons.

Shoop and his wife Morcia have a son, Sidney, and a daughter, Mary Elizabeth.

TOMMY THIGPEN
LINEBACKERS

A former All-ACC linebacker at North Carolina, Tammy Thigpen enters his third season as the Tar Heels' linebackers coach. An exceptional recruiter, Thigpen was recently named one of the nation's top 25 recruiters in 2007 by Rivals.com.

Thigpen tutored the team's leading tacklers in each of his first two seasons at Carolina. In 2006, former walk-on Durrell Mapp led UNC with 87 tackles, and in 2005, linebackers Tammy Richardsan and Larry Edwards tied for the team lead with 91 stops. Richardsan was named honorable-mention All-ACC that season. Edwards had his best two seasons under Thigpen, leading the team in tackles for losses in 2005 and 2006. In 2005, Carolina also had to overcome the loss of starting senior middle linebacker Daug Justice in the second game of the year.

Thigpen was hired from Illinois, where he coached for two years and had been asked to remain an Ron Zaak's Illini staff. He was the cornerbacks coach in 2003 and the linebackers coach in 2004.

Thigpen achieved accolades as a Parade All-America and Virginia Defensive Player of the Year at Patamac High School in Dumfries, Va.

A four-year letterwinner at North Carolina from 1989-92, Thigpen was a three-time All-Atlantic Coast Conference linebacker, earning first-team honors in 1991. He was captain of the 1992 team that went 9-3 and beat Mississippi State in the Peach Bowl, the first of seven straight bowl games for the Tar Heels in the 1990s. He holds a bachelor's degree in political science from Carolina.

Thigpen played professionally for the New York Giants in 1993-94 and the Barcelona Dragons in 1995-96.

He began his coaching career as a UNC graduate assistant in 1998-99. He then coached linebackers at Tennessee State in 2000. In 2001-02, he coached cornerbacks and was the special teams coordinator at Bowling Green State.

At Bowling Green, Thigpen helped coach one of the Mid-American Conference's top defenses, as the Falcons forced 27 turnovers to lead the MAC in turnover margin in 2002. BGSU also finished second in the MAC in pass efficiency defense. Thigpen's special teams also were impressive, blocking seven punts and a potential game-winning field goal attempt by Western Michigan to preserve the Falcons' early undefeated season.

Thigpen is married to the former Jacinda Webb and the couple has a daughter, Asia.

CHARLIE WILLIAMS
ASSISTANT COACH
WIDE RECEIVERS

Charlie Williams enters his first season as North Carolina's wide receivers coach. Williams, who coached wide receivers with Davis at the University of Miami, was most recently the wide receivers coach at Arizona from 2004-06.

A 22-year coaching veteran, Williams spent six seasons as receivers coach with Tony Dungy and the NFL's Tampa Bay Buccaneers from 1996-2001, tutoring standout performers such as Keyshawn Johnson, Reidel Anthony and Jacques Green. Johnson was chosen to play in three Pro Bowls while Williams was his position coach. The 2000 and 2001 Tampa Bay offense set several franchise offensive records, and the team advanced to the playoffs four times during his tenure.

Prior to his NFL stint, Williams was wide receivers coach for three seasons at Miami, two under Dennis Erickson and one under Davis.

At Arizona, Williams developed Syndric Steptae into a big-play threat. Steptae was the Wildcats' leading receiver in 2006 with 55 receptions for 568 yards. Mike Williams, Arizona's second-leading receiver last year with 50 catches, set the freshman school record with 52 receptions in 2005.

Williams also coached one season for Lou Holtz at South Carolina in 2003, where he helped develop Tray Williams into a 2005 first-round NFL draft pick of the Minnesota Vikings.

In 1993 and 1994, Williams coached Chris T. Jones, who led the Hurricanes in receiving both years and had a total of 90 catches for 1,462 yards. The 1993 Hurricanes (9-3) played Arizona in the Fiesta Bowl and Jones led Miami with six catches for 98 yards.

Williams was part of the 1994 Miami staff that led the Canes to a 10-2 finish and played Nebraska in the Orange Bowl.

A native of Long Beach, Calif., Williams began his coaching career at Long Beach City College in 1984. He worked two years at New Mexico State (1986-87), four seasons at TCU (1988-91) and one year at Minnesota (1992) before joining the Miami program.

Williams played two years as a defensive back at Colorado State (1978-79). He and his wife Lisa, have two daughters, Sydney and Jada, and a son, Gregory.

THIS IS CAROLINA FOOTBALL

- The University of North Carolina is the nation's first public university, established in 1789. It is ranked the fifth-best public university in U.S. News & World Report's 2006 "Best Colleges" guidebook.
- Carolina has been honored by the AFCA for graduating more than 70 percent of its football student-athletes for each of the past three years. Carolina's NFL graduation rate is nearly 70 percent.
- North Carolina's coaching staff has experience on all levels, including high school, college and the NFL. Seven of the nine coaches have coached in the NFL, six have been a coordinator in either college or the NFL, and five have head coaching experience.
- North Carolina has been to 25 bowl games and has won six of its last seven postseason games.

DE • Julius Peppers
Carolina Panthers

- According to a 2006 Wall Street Journal story, North Carolina ranks 10th in the country in producing NFL players. Last season, Carolina had 29 NFL players, including three Pro Bowlers - DE Julius Peppers, TE Alge Crumpler and C Jeff Saturday.

C • Jeff Saturday
Indianapolis Colts

- Former Tar Heels Jeff Saturday and Dexter Reid earned Super Bowl titles after helping lead Indianapolis to a win over Chicago in Super Bowl XLI. Saturday is the Colts' starting center.
- Carolina has an outstanding walk-on tradition. Last season, three former UNC walk-ons played in the NFL, including linebacker David Thornton, deep snapper Greg Warren and wide receiver Wallace Wright.

- The Carolina Leadership Academy, the first program of its kind in college athletics, provides comprehensive and cutting edge leadership development programming for all student-athletes.

- Carolina has more than 600 different student organizations. These organizations plan activities, programs and services that address a wide span of interests. These organizations include, pre-professional, activist, cultural, fraternity, honorary, international, media, religious, service, special interest, sports and recreation and student government.

- North Carolina is a charter member of the Atlantic Coast Conference, which began in 1953. The league now includes 12 teams and is the nation's winningest bowl conference.

- The University of North Carolina is located in the town of Chapel Hill, which has often been called, "the perfect college town." Franklin Street, which runs through the heart of downtown Chapel Hill, features many restaurants and shops and is the location of several athletic celebrations and the annual Halloween party.
- Carolina has won 37 national championships in five different sports and 51 individual national championships.
- Carolina's athletic alumni include Michael Jordan (basketball), Julius Peppers (football), Mia Hamm (soccer), Marion Jones (track & field), Davis Love III (golf), Dre' Bly (football), Ronald Curry (football), Lawrence Taylor (football), Vince Carter (basketball) and many more.

The Old Well

A CAROLINA SCHOLARSHIP IS ABOUT MUCH MORE THAN WHAT HAPPENS ON THE FIELD

That's where Tar Heel student-athletes are in the public eye, of course. That's when we see them wearing their uniform, when they are stamped as Tar Heels across the chest.

Receiving a scholarship to Carolina means meeting a handful of new teammates—and a world full of new classmates. It means remembering the many victories, because part of coming to Carolina means being a winner. But it also means remembering the children they met during their holiday shopping project, the sign a fan made for them at one of their games, and the professor in that 8 a.m. class that made them want to get out of bed early every morning.

These student-athletes are afforded this opportunity because of The Rams Club. Each year, donors from across the country—alumni, fans and supporters—provide scholarships that enable more than 450 deserving young men and women to be Tar Heels for a lifetime.
